

PETER HEALS DORCAS, a mad lib (Acts 9:36-43)

Peter was a _____ of/for Jesus, and he traveled all over the _____,
(a job) (noun)

telling people about Jesus in towns like _____ and _____.
(a city or town) (another city or town)

In one town, there lived a lady named Dorcas or Tabitha, both of which names meant

_____. Dorcas was a follower of Jesus, and she was always doing good (an animal)

deeds, such as helping the poor by making _____ for them.
(noun, plural)

Then something _____ happened – Dorcas became very sick and (an emotion)

_____. Her friends washed her body with _____ and put (action verb, past tense, something a person can do) (a liquid) her in the _____.
(a room in a house)

When Dorcas' friends heard that Peter was in a nearby town, they sent _____ (a number)

_____ to ask him to come immediately.
(something alive, plural)

Peter went and the friends showed him the room where Dorcas' body was. All the widows were there, _____ and showing him the _____ and other clothing that (action verb + ing, something a person can do) (an item of clothing, plural)

Dorcas had made for them.

Peter had them all leave the room, and then he got down on his _____ and (body part)

_____. Then he turned to Dorcas and told her to get up.
(action verb, past tense, something you can do)

She opened her _____ and sat up. Peter took her by the _____ and (body part) (another body part)

helped her get to her _____.
(another body part)

He called in her friends and the widows and showed them that Dorcas was alive!

Lots of people in the town heard about this and believed in Jesus.